

(The Shadows Of) Ginger And Pauly

You better leave your failin' home
Can't get your feet back on the stone
People amuse and people see
People love and people bleed.

So Ginger wants her boyfriend now
Why can't you queue up in a row?
This is the moment of your life
But you ain't got your hottest drive.

I feel your fire down below
She played with arrows and a bow
Now do you have another plan?
Is this the only trick you can?

Now ain't you got something to say?
Or do you think you plan to stay?
You better don't say any word
I've got the feeling, it can hurt.

Pauly played on New Year's Eve
He should have hidden like a thief
Drivin' home, it was so late
Well, it was meant to be his fate.

Now can't you hear the music theme?
Or is there anything between?
Was it the tension of the night?
Or just the poison of your bite?

There are some neutrons in your heart
Well, don't tell me you fall apart
I see, there's coolness in your eyes
Don't dare to say something too nice.

We're searching for somebody new
Who ain't exactly just like you
This ain't a game, this is so sad
Can't get you out of my head.

Where is the reason to exist?
This is the moment to insist
You better do not play with me
'Cause in the morning we'll be free

You better leave me now alone
I've got your picture on my phone
Is this exactly what you dreamed?
Or just another hopeless scene?
